

Looking For The Very Best In Business Computer Support?

You've found it!

Sentinet Computing provides business computer support for small businesses in Sussex, Kent, Surrey and London. We offer the highest level of customer support and technical expertise for all aspects of your business computing requirements.

Established in 2000, we set out to bring our unrivalled technical expertise to our customers along with something almost unheard of in the IT service industry: excellent and knowledgeable customer service.

{sidebar id=2 align=right}

Professional Computer Support For Your Business

Sentinet provides on-site computer support for a wide range of small business customers, not just in Sussex but also further afield into Kent, Surrey and London. We also provide a very fast Remote Control Support service where a small download from our site enables us to take control of your computer as though we were sitting in front of it. This allows us to offer computer support promptly whether you are local or distant without having to wait for an engineer; ideal for supplementing our telephone support for quick problem solving as well as for more in-depth support issues. (Our longest distance computer support call to date has been setting up remote access from a laptop in Greece to a network in West Grinstead, all without leaving Hastings!).

Our customer base has grown and continues to grow steadily because of the results that we deliver in a friendly and relaxed manner. No computing problem is too small for our detailed attention while complex network installations receive our professional care to execution.

If your business computer network needs professional, specialist attention, then why not read what our customers say about us and then call us on 01424 858185 to arrange a free and informal discussion of your needs, without obligation.