

Mobile Email

Mobile Email on your smart phone or PDA used to be the reserve of large organisations, but growth in this key area has made it possible for even the smallest business to take advantage of email on the go.

The problem you're most likely to face is choosing the best method to suit your needs, whether that's a smart phone, PDA, notebook, tablet PC or Blackberry the options available can get confusing.

This is where you can rely on Sentinet's expertise and experience; we'll help you identify the most suitable methods for your mobile email and get everything set up as quickly and painlessly as possible. This can be from simple email forwarding to your smartphone or mobile to synchronising your Blackberry device to the office email system with direct contact to your email inbox and calendar.

A growing number of businesses are also taking advantage of the low cost of remote access to the corporate network; teleworkers are able to work from home, branch offices and home offices can share data from the head office network and mobile sales teams have up to date information from the office.

For the small business owner there is the opportunity to work from home outside of normal office hours giving the freedom to check email and access files wherever there is an available Internet connection.

Sentinet Computing has a proven track record in delivering cost-effective solutions that enable your business to take advantage of mobile email and teleworking, so call us now on 01424 858185 to discuss how your business can gain a competitive advantage without being chained to your desk.
